Employee

1,001 - 3,000

An Australian Government health insurance provider required our assistance to migrate applications from legacy platforms to the cloud and modern desktop services.

Challenges

- ✓ The customer was working off an outdated Windows desktop that was not compatible with all their required applications
- ✓ No deployment mechanism to roll out thousands of laptops
- ✓ Legacy technology inhibited the adoption of new services
- ✓ The inability to introduce enhanced security for end-point devices

Benefits

- ✓ Windows 10 provided stability to the desktop fleet
- ✓ Improved patching strategy
- ✓ Enhanced device and data protection through encryption
- ✓ Improved security and protection of user identity
- ✓ Modernisation of the user environment

Solutions

- ✓ Windows 10 migration for all users from a Windows 7 desktop
- ✓ Network-based deployment of the desktop operating system as needed
- ✓ Device encryption for data security
- ✓ Multifactor authentication based on device and network locations
